On the morphosyntax of Scandinavian adjectives: an overview

The purpose of this talk will be to give an overview of morphological, syntactic, and to some extent semantic issues that pertain to adjectives in various varieties of Scandinavian. Some of the issues to be addressed are the following:

(i) Microvariation with respect to adjectival inflection (±strong/weak distinction, ±distinct predicative inflection)
(ii) Article syntax and microvariation with respect to definiteness marking in DPs with adjectives (±double definiteness, adjective incorporation etc.)
(iii) Definiteness marking and the interpretation of adjectives
(iv) The correlation between inflection and semantics
(v) Article reduplication in indefinites ("double indefiniteness")

A selection of questions that arise will be discussed in more detail from a theoretical point of view and treated within a specific structural proposal for the Scandinavian DP.
